

Rezone May Bring New Lemon Grove Community

The Lemon Grove School District will protest a rezoning request by which 80 acres of land on the East side of Imperial ave. between Lisbon and Canton would increase the district's school population dramatically.

Byron Netzey, school superintendent, said Wednesday, that the request was for changing R-15 (minimum 5,000 square foot lot) to R-2A zoning (29 units per acre).

If used to capacity, 2,320 dwelling units would be constructed.

Netzey said that one child to each unit would pour 2,320 more youngsters into district schools. Using the 3½ persons to a family measurement, the area population would swell by 8,120.

The nearest school, Monterey Heights, is already at its 600-student capacity. Four more schools would be required to accommodate such an increase, Netzey said.

In City

The situation is made awkward by the fact that the land is in the City of San Diego although it is in the Lemon Grove School District.

The San Diego City Planning Department hearing is scheduled for Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. on the 12th floor of the City Administration building in San Diego.

Richard Quivey, San Diego City Senior Planner, said this week that the request for rezoning had been made by the Pacific Bay Development Corp. for the Christiana Oil Co.

He said that it is likely that they will ask for a continuance for hearing until mid-October.

Quivey said it was his understanding that the property would be a "planned residential development" with "16 or 17 units to the acre."

No School Sites

Netzey said that he had been instructed by the school board to protest the rezoning because there are no sites available in that area. He also noted that there would have to be a sizable bond issue approval to build one or more schools and that such an issue would be shaky under present conditions in Lemon Grove.

Quivey said that a new San Diego requirement under 600-1 San Diego Policy, would have the developers providing school facilities — "and paying for them, too."

Netzey said some of the students from the Monterey Heights area are already being bussed to San Altos school.

The streets involved in the rezoning include all or part of: Viewcrest, Woodward, Buena Vista ave., Alta Vista, Angelus, Lisbon, Woodrow and Nixon.

The Lemon Grove District presently operates six elementary and two junior high schools and has a school population of 4,250.

Each of the schools will be at capacity when the fall term begins next month but there will be no double sessions.

The District employs 300 people including classified personnel, and teachers.

Tax Rate $2.74

The property tax rate is $2.74 for each $100 of assessed valuation. It is five cents under the ceiling rate voted a year ago by local residents. This tax is used for the district's operation.

If additional schools are built, a bond election would be held. The bonding capacity of the property within the Lemon Grove School District is $2 million. At present, $1 million in bonds is outstanding.

One solution is for the San Diego Unified School District to shuffle boundaries and annex the area to be rezoned. But such an action would slide a finger of the San Diego district between Lemon Grove's San Altos school on the west and Monterey Heights school on the east. It would also leave the San Simeon area with the same situation as the rezoning area. If one section goes, it would make sense for the San Diego school district to take both sections, one school official said.

Auto Gags Get No Better

Some of us are ancient enough to remember Henry Ford gags.

They started during the era of the Tin Lizzie and followed Ford until autos became a necessity of society rather than a symbol of affluence.

Most were so corny it would take a brave man to recite some of them. All of them had one thing in common — they were clean.

Now it's another day; another car, and another crop of jokes.

This time it's the foreign-made VW that is the object of today's levity.

Some examples:

News flash—"Two men robbed a bank, but the police got a description of the car. It was either a 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968 or 1969 VW..."

Another newspaper writer says "... maybe VW hasn't sent any new cars to America. Perhaps the old ones are just breeding."

Still another: "All major U.S. auto makers plan small cars to compete with the VW. Now the second year, men, we'll make it eight inches longer and five inches wider, and the year after that..."

Even the San Diego EVENING TRIBUNE weighed in with one a few months ago when one of the columnists reported that Caliente Race Track planned to give away tickets for 200,000 free Margarita cocktails. "It will represent a race track consuming in coming weeks of a million ounces. A VW gassed to the same degree would travel about 195,000 miles," the writer suggested.

From the NEW YORKER: "A letter from the Admiral Corp. to a correspondent read: 'Dear Mr. S.: Thank you for taking the time from your busy day to read my letter. Your address, and the car you drive, a 1967 VW, are indicative of your appreciation of the finest developments in American industry...' American?"

A television performer, one Chad Everett, star of "Medical Center," told a reporter, "I hired a chauffeur-driven VW bus. I took all the seats out of the back and put in comfortable living room furniture. Then I hired a midget bartender to run around with a tray of drinks..."

"Rotary can be a key to the understanding of these and other problems," Merrill said.

"These so-called gaps are man-made; man, then, must bridge them and Rotarians can do their part in the process."

Board Passes $3.6 Million Budget For 1970-71 Year

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met last week, and passed the adoption of the 1970-71 school year budget.

The budget, in the amount of about $3.6 million, shows an increase of $389,961 over last year's total, which represents a tax increase of 7% for operational costs, and 12% for total increases, including interests on loans, and other non-operational costs.

Tax rates for the district will now rise to $3.88, as compared with last year's rate of $3.76 per $100 assessment.

Last year's budget called for $3.2 million.

County Seeks Chamber OK On New Broadway Design

The coming improvement of Broadway will occupy the attention of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce board of directors August 27 when it holds its regular board meeting at the Burning T Steak Ranch.

A committee of three members of Chamber met last week with Howard Taylor, County Road Engineer; Dick Gaines, a traffic engineer for the County, and Joseph Damberger, a highway engineer with the State Division of Highways.

Chamber members were

Robert Russell, president, James Dorman, past president, and Al Woods, chairman of the chamber's road committee.

For more than an hour, the group studied maps of the tentative Broadway plan, and the ramping system scheduled

Meeting Attracts 38 At L.G. Junior High

Reports were handed in last Thursday by three committees of the executive committee of the Lemon Grove Planning Association.

The meeting, at Lemon Grove Junior High school attracted 38 persons — a smaller turnout than had been at prior meetings.

Committees of the group handed in reports for boundaries, by-laws, and work programs.

Chairman James Dorman, at the request of the executive committee, instructed the County Division of Community Planning to reproduce the reports and submit them to each member of the executive committee.

Members will then work the "bugs" out with committee chairmen. Ben Ela is Work Program chairman; Al Woods is Boundary chairman, and J. Dorman is By-Laws chairman.

The object of interim study is to avert having the total committee go over the same questions several times, Dorman said.

The reports will be ready to approve or change at the September 3 meeting which will be held at 3 p.m. at the Junior High school.

When the reports have been approved and the County Board of Supervisors have voted the Lemon Grove Planning Association an official organization, an over-all plan for developing the community will be programmed. The group will have no zoning power, however.

Membership on the executive committee or the association itself is open to any person with a positive interest in the potential growth and development of the community.

At the Thursday meeting, Jerry Hermanson, associate planner of the Division of Community Planning represented the County. DCP operates under the County Planning Department.

Library Not Free

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The County Free Library System is no longer "free"; it's just the County Library.

The name was changed by the Board of Supervisors in an amendment of rules and regulations to bring them in line with the Serra Library System that the county recently joined.

County Librarian Arthur Murray said that his personnel were tired of having patrons explain that the library was not "free" but is supported by a tax rate that amounted to $.129 per $100 of assessed valuation during the past fiscal year.

The county also removed the $5 non-resident fee which was being charged to about 150 people a year.

Users can borrow books from all systems and return the books to any other library in the County.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

How does one say "Please translate." in Spanish? This phrase and any variations of it will be of great assistance to me in my learning of this beautiful language.

There are several ways to say "please." "Por favor" is a simple way to say "please." This form usually follows the request as seen in "Traducir por favor." (Translate, please). Also, one may use "Favor de" (please) to begin the phrase as seen in "Favor de traducir." (Please translate.). If you wish to say "Please translate this letter," you may add "esta carta" resulting in "Favor de traducir esta carta."

"Traducir means "to translate." This is a slightly irregular verb as the letter "c" is changed to "z" when used in the first person. Thus we would say "Po traduzco" for "I translate," or "I am translating." Other forms of this verb are regular as may be seen in "el traduce" for "he translates" or "ellos traducen" for "they translate."

Another variation of "traducir" may be seen in "Que traducen ellos?" (What are they translating?) or "Nosotros traducimos libros." for "We are translating books." An example of the past tense is seen in "Que tradujo usted?" (What did you translate?). An answer might be "Yo traduje el periodico." (I translated the newspaper.).

Six pattern-practice phrases are listed below and contain interesting variations of "traducir" (to translate), "favor de" (please) or "favor de" converted to "por favor" (please). You may wish to learn them with the aid of the recorded voice saying them when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Favor de traducir." (fah-VOHR deh trah-doo-SEER) for "Please, translate."
Say "Yo traduzco." (yoh trah-DOOS-koh) for "I am translating."
Say "Que traduce usted?" (keh trah-DOOS-oh o-STEHD) for "What are you translating?"
Say "Yo traduzco cartas." (yoh trah-DOOS-koh KAH-rah-tahs)
for "I translate letters."
Say "Traducir por favor." (trah-DOOS-kah pohr-fah-VOHR) for "Translate, please."
Say "Quien traduce periodicos?" (kee-EHN trah-DOOS-koh p eh-ree-OH-de-kohs) for "Who translates newspapers?"

Mrs. Marie Allen, a representative of the San Diego council of Camp Fire Girls, told the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club last week that the Camp Fire Girls organization strives to "help girls help themselves," and to "become the best women possible."

Mrs. Allen, who replaced Gene Pierson, manager of the Sweetwater-Jamacha branch of Bank of America, as the regular speaker, said that the organization "exists for the sole clear purpose of developing girls into womanhood."

"Its ideas . . . wholesome, feminine, and American . . . have given rise to a program of activities attractive to young girls of all economic, ethical, religious and geographic stations. More girls can be served only through a more intensive effort from all members of the community—businessmen and women, those engaged in professions, industry and labor and various civic organizations. Expanded facilities and resources are mandatory."

"Camp Fire Girls has existed since 1912. At present there are more than 6,500 girls who are members in the San Diego County. Three camp sites are maintained by the Camp Fire Girls . . . Camp Wolahi, 60 acres in Cuyamaca Lake, Camp Cahito, 7 acres in Balboa Park, and Camp Vahilo, 120 acres in Poway.

"The organization is in the process of raising money for a girls lodge and Youth Service Center in the Balboa Park site and a Lodge-Dining Hall at Cuyamaca. In the next ten years, Camp Fire Girls hope to raise enough money to put these plans into reality and to build more facilities for winter camping."

"Some of this money will come from the annual peanut drive, but most of it will have to come from the community. $500,856 is needed for the 10-year master plan. On January 31, 1970, $57,527 had been reached."

"There is a matching fund of $100,000 which is to be available when an equivalent amount is received from sources other than Camp Fire Girls."

Aquatic Day Camp Gals Surf, Sail

Canoeing, snorkeling, surfing, sailing, and water skiing will be featured attractions for the 97 San Diego County girls attending the Camp Fire Girls' Aquatic Day Camp this week at Vacation Isle.

Most of the girls, who range in age from 12 to 17, are members of Junior HI groups or Horizon Clubs in the County. Each girl chose a special unit when registering for camp and the camp staff includes 18 volunteer counselors in addition to specialists in each area.

Although headquartered at Vacation Isle, during the mornings, some of the girls will be at other locations for their special activities. The water ski unit will operate at Ski Beach on Mission Bay, the snorkeling unit will use a private pool for beginning and then move to the flood control channel and the tide pool area in La Jolla.

Surfing is scheduled for Bonita Cove and Mission Beach while the canoe unit will use the South Cove of Vacation Isle. The sailing unit will operate from the Vacation Village dock.

Ten-Week Conditioning Class Set

Resumption of physical conditioning classes for asthmatic children — after start of the Fall school session — is being planned by Christmas and Easter Seal organizations, according to Dr. Simon C. Brumbaugh, Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area chairman of the Tuberculosis & Health Assn. of San Diego & Imperial Counties.

Under the medical supervision of Dr. Harvey O. Randel, president of the TB group, and Dr. John J. Stevens, both allergists, classes will be held in one-and-a-half hour sessions twice a week for 10 weeks for youngsters between the ages of 6 and 16.

There will be simultaneous orientation sessions for parents.

In many cases it is being found that properly supervised physical conditioning helps the asthmatic child in participation in normal activities with other children, Brumbaugh explained.

"The greatest benefit is that the child builds self-confidence and learns how to live with his impairment," Brumbaugh said.

Applications, which must be approved by the child's physician, may be obtained at the TB association office, 3861 Front st., San Diego. Classes will be directed by S. Albert Zaseta and Robert Stuckey, exercise specialists with the Cajon Valley School District.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

We wonder why our youth get into mischief, our teenagers, and the younger set, when school is out there is simply nothing for them, in our fair city, nothing, no jobs available. They just walk around, seemingly in a dazed condition; what we need is a large swimming pool. We have tried so many years to get one, where the youth, can get their exercise, and enjoy themselves.

Many of my friends have asked me to write to the editor of our local paper and state their willingness to cooperate, in getting one. We have so many wonderful organizations who would be glad to help financially as we all would — look what the kids have done about litter, marvelous! beautiful trash cans by Food Basket, on Broadway and other places, which certainly makes a difference — Doctors, churches, clubs, etc. I know would also help.

Say we had a beautiful pool like Spring Valley with a snack bar, how the kids would love that — and there is ground, where outdoor movies used to be on Grove street. The parents would be glad to pay a minimum amount for their children to have somewhere to go and have fun. Relaxation, exercise and have fun generally. I know Mr. Walker Scott would contribute and other merchants of College Grove.

The pool of course would be supervised and so I'm hoping for all the people to whom I've talked, and who have asked me to write this letter that it will become a reality instead of a dream.

All the other communities have a pool, why can't we?

Editor's Note: The Spring Valley pool is Carman Ranch Club, a private facility. If enough people wanted to develop a local swimming pool we're certain the kids would appreciate it. Grossmont College requested bids on a swimming pool. It came in at $162,661. This did not include locker facilities.

Lions Club Exchange Program

Japanese Youngsters Invade Area

By John Nicholson

"Japanese people and American people are the same on the inside," according to Toshima Yokouchi, "only on the outside are they different."

Toshima, a striking 19-year-old beauty from Japan, is visiting the United States as part of a Lions Club exchange program that brought over 120 Japanese youngsters to the United States and sent that many American youths to Japan.

There are about 30 Japanese boys and girls in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area who are a part of the program, which enables them to see the United States and the people on this side of the world, while they enjoy learning cultures, and of course the American Version of the English Language.

Toshimi arrived August 1, and will live with a family in the area until it is time to return home for school. She is enrolled at a university in Tokyo.

So far, Toshimi has enjoyed her visit, which has included a barbeque and hayride at Jerry's Hayride in Jamul, shopping sprees at local shops, an All-American hot dog, a trip to San Diego Zoo, a trip to the beach, and a view of some "real hippies."

Toshimi said that she was surprised to see that men in America do so much work around the house. "The men in Japan have more authority and the women do all the household chores," she said.

In Japan, she said, there are problems with the generation gap — a much more severe one than in the United States — smog, and drugs, much as there are in America. She considers the older generation in Japan to be more conservative in Japan than in the United States. "The people here are more broad minded," she insists, "They worry less about the little things."

Other differences between the two cultures, according to Toshimi, are religious beliefs, parties, and food.

In Japan, the older generation likes to eat rice and traditional foods, while the youngsters enjoy American, French, or Italian foods. "Pizza is very popular in Japan," she said. American foods come in wider varieties and assortments than in Japan.

Most Japanese people are Buddhists, according to Miss Yokouchi, but they celebrate Christmas every year. She doesn't understand why, but they do. She visited her first Christian church Sunday, when she and the family she's staying with attended Skyline Wesleyan Methodist in Lemon Grove.

She said that Americans "really know how to give a party." Japanese parties are not nearly as fun, she said.

Another thing that she noticed about the American way of living is the way we take our baths. In Japan, one climbs into a deeper and very hot tub. After relaxing for a while, the bather gets out and lathers up with soap, rinses off in a small bowl, and climbs into the tub again.

She said that the beaches in California are cleaner and more beautiful than those in Japan, and also noted that girls in Japan don't smoke, although many boys do.

Japanese enjoy watching television, playing baseball and soccer, and driving, although there are few women who drive.

Toshimi and her group leave for a three day stop in Hawaii before returning home.

Juvenile Traffic Up

The Juvenile Traffic Court had another record-breaking month according to its Chief, George W. Ingersoll with 3420 citations being received during the month.

The 1970 U. S. space program will cost about $6-billion.

MODEL BUS — Barney Palazzolo, of 3212 Crane, Lemon Grove, looks over a model of a special bus for students in wheel chairs with his teacher, Tona Blunt, and his classmate, Greg Fishel. The students are enrolled at Granite Hills High School, where during the summer months, the boys helped design the bus. The Grossmont Union High School District approved the design last week.

Southwestern's Artist-Lecture Series Dubbed Biggest Ever

The Southwestern College Artist-Lecture Series for the 1970-71 season promises to be one of the strongest series of events yet scheduled by the College.

Under the sponsorship of the Associated Student Organization and the Community Services Department, the fall series inaugural program will be an appearance by Mrs. Medgar Evers, widow of the slain NAACP leader.

Mrs. Evers, who carried on the work for the NAACP following the death of her husband, will speak on Tuesday, September 18 at 8 p.m. in Mayan Hall.

On Monday, October 12, the ASO will sponsor a concert by the noted San Francisco Ballet, also slated for Mayan Hall. The Ballet has gained national recognition for their performances at colleges and schools throughout the United States.

Following the ballet, Dr. Thomas Ungerleider, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at the U.C.L.A. Medical Center, will speak on "The Pot, Acid and Speed Generation."

On November 14, also at 11 a.m., the baseball great, and probably the game's most popular player, Willie Mays will speak on "The World of Sports," in the College Gym.

Little more can be said about the legendary feats of Mays on the diamond. His unique style of "Basket Catches" and his power at the plate have earned Mays a place in baseball's Hall of Fame.

He recently gained his three-thousandth base hit, becoming only the fifth man in baseball to collect that many hits in a batting lifetime.

The last program in the 1970 Fall season, will be the appearance of the Honorable Birch Bayh, prominent United States Senator from Indiana. Senator Bayh will speak in Mayan Hall on Tuesday, December 8 at 8 p.m.

The 1971 Spring series opens with a Dance Concert by the famous Charles Weidman, master of modern technique, on Saturday, January 16 at 8 p.m. The concert by Weidman will climax a program of Master Lessons to be given at the College for dance students in the district.

On February 17, the brilliant young concert pianist, Miss Allegría Arce will perform selections from the works of Beethoven, Mozart and Prokofiev.

One week later, on February 24, a former crewman on the U.S.S. Pueblo, Robert Chica, will speak on the Pueblo incident. He will cover the technique used by the communists on the members of the Pueblo crew. His perceptiveness and keen memory of the events that followed the capture of the Pueblo, make an exciting story of intrigue.

In March, two giants of the music world will appear at Southwestern College. Tuesday, March 2, the jazz great, Cal Tjader and his quartet will appear in Mayan Hall. Anyone who enjoys the unique progressive stylings of Tjader will find an in-person concert most exciting.

One week later Glen Yarborough, acclaimed by many as being on a par with Burl Ives, will be presented in concert with his entire show cast in the College Gym. Yarborough's appearance is scheduled for 8 p.m.

The final program of the 1971 Spring season will close with the appearance of Madame Claire Chennault, widow of the founder of the famous Flying Tigers of World War II.

Valley Mesa Soxers Make Nationals

Valley Mesa Bobby Sox League all-stars made it to the national championship tournament by beating a tough La Mesa team, 7-6, last Sunday afternoon.

Things looked bad for the Valley Mesa team Saturday, as they were dumped into the losers' bracket when La Mesa handed them their first loss of the tourney, 6-4.

La Mesa went on to lose to Serra Mesa for the right to represent the area in the championship, and had to duel with Valley Mesa for the runner-up spot.

La Mesa jumped out an early 5-1 lead in the final game, capitalizing on three errors and four walks in the second inning to score the five tallies.

Valley Mesa picked up another run in the fifth inning, making it 5-2, and then exploded in the sixth, with the help of three walks, four errors and a hit to vault into the lead, 6-5.

La Mesa knotted the score in the bottom of the sixth, but Mary Johann drove in the decisive run in the seventh for Valley Mesa.

Serra Mesa and Valley Mesa will open play in the national championship August 18.

USIU Opens Campus in Mexico City

Mexico City's newest institution of higher education, the Universidad Internacional de Mexico, will open its doors next month.

UIM is a branch of an international university with campuses in the United States, England and Kenya and with its headquarters, United States International University, in San Diego.

It will offer undergraduate liberal arts lower division courses in general education for students resident in Mexico, as well as upper division courses in business and economics, mathematics and history, including Latin American studies, for students enrolling from the United States and other countries.

"This is our seventh campus and the third to be located outside the United States," Dr. William C. Rust, USIU President, said. "It represents the latest step in our long-range plan to develop a truly international university."

Construction Started At Jamul School

Work began last week on a single large annexation to the Jamul-Las Flores Elementary School, which will provide for an additional 150 students, and is expected to be ready by January to relieve overcrowded conditions at the school.

The structure is to be of advance design, with no windows or interior paneling or partitions, according to William Whitley, Jamul-Las Flores principal.

Five classes will share the large room, with five teachers, two teacher's aides, and a reading specialist handling the students.

The $165,000 building will open in January, to help relieve overcrowding caused by an enrollment of 200 over the designed maximum number the school can facilitate.

Expected enrollment this year is 455 students, compared to 435 last year, and designed capacity of 250.

The school board has adopted the budget for the coming school year, increasing expenditures by $50,000 over last year. The tax rate for the district will not raise, however.

Pool Opens, New Courses To Be Offered

Grossmont College will observe the opening of its new swimming pool when three courses in swimming are offered for the first time this fall. The three aquatic courses will be offered in the evening as well as during the regular daytime schedule.

"Beginning and Intermediate Swimming" will offer basic and advanced instruction and practice in the swimming strokes and diving with emphasis placed on performance and conditioning. The "Senior Lifesaving and Water Safety Instructors" course will provide advanced instruction in swimming and lifesaving techniques which can lead to certification as a swimming and water safety instructor by the American National Red Cross.

Deadline for applying for these and other courses at Grossmont College is Friday, August 28. Additional information on enrolling may be obtained by contacting the Admissions Office.

Tax Tales
No one seems to have noticed that the Tax Reform Act of 1969 has increased tax incentives for having children but decreased tax incentives for getting married.

Grossmont Offers Three New Fall Music Courses

Grossmont College will offer three new music courses for the first time during the fall semester. The new courses, "Piano for Enjoyment," "Practical Arranging," and "Voice Training for the Community Choir Singer," are designed for the non-music major and for the interested adult in the community; in addition to those who wish to further their training in arranging for dance bands, combos, rock groups, or for those who would like additional training in breath control, tone, diction and interpretation.

David Glismann will serve as instructor for both the "Piano for Enjoyment" and "Voice Training for the Community Choir Singer" classes, while Richard Braun will teach the "Practical Arranging" class. The "Piano for Enjoyment" class will meet from 12 to 1 or 4 to 5 each Wednesday afternoon as well as from 7 to 9 each Thursday evening.

"Practical Arranging" will meet from 7 to 10 each Tuesday evening while the class in "Voice Training for the Community Choir Singer" will meet from 7 to 10 on Wednesday evening.

Glismann, formerly with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians and the Roger Wagner Chorus, has performed in radio, television and on the concert stage. Before joining the Music Department faculty at Grossmont College, Glismann taught at Los Angeles City College where he developed an outstanding choral and vocal program.

He also served as the choral director and voice teacher at the University of Colorado. He holds a master of music degree from Columbia University and is currently a doctoral candidate at the University of Southern California.

Braun is well-known as a performer, arranger and teacher throughout the San Diego area.

Deadline for applying for these and other courses at Grossmont College is Friday, August 28. Additional information on enrolling may be obtained by contacting the Admissions Office.

Don Stockdale, President of the Coronado Rotary Club, wrote us a nice letter recently. It seems the Club was getting ready for its annual Pancake Breakfast. With many of the 1,457 guests already arriving, it was discovered that the griddles weren't working. After the initial panic, Bob Hansen, one of our employees, volunteered his services. Bob quickly had all three griddles in operation, and a lot of hungry Coronadans settled down to their pancakes. Which all goes to prove, of course, that it's nice to have a man from the gas and electric company around.

Monte Vista Wins Summer League Title While County All-Stars Beat City Stars

Monarchs Best Helix For Crown

Allan Bunting and Gary Earle scored 25 points apiece last Friday night to lead Monte Vista to a 73-50 victory over the Helix Highlanders for the 1970 Pepsi Summer League championship in the first game of a double header.

The game was followed by the County-City all star game, an annual affair sponsored by the Breitbard Foundation.

The rugged Highlanders, who were forced to play without their star center, Gary Ely, made a good fight out of the lopsided contest during the first quarter, but fell apart in the second period, enabling the Monarchs to build up an unsurmountable 36-24 lead.

Bunting moved inside back-up center. Andy Walton for easy baskets in the second period, and continued the rampage in the third quarter, helping the Monarchs to take a 20 point lead at one point.

Helix made a short rally in the waning minutes of the third period, narrowing the Monte Vista lead to 16 tallies, but were crushed in the final stanza, as the Monarchs outscored them 17-10 in that period.

Walton, a sophomore at Helix, looked good at center, considering he has little experience, and could become one of the tops in the area by the time he graduates.

Monte Vista's Earle had what his coach, Pete Colonelli, called "a great night" — shooting and rebounding. Earle flipped in 10 field goals and also had a pretty good night at the free throw line, sinking five of seven shots.

Bob Papiak, Monte Vista's super-star guard, helped the Monarchs with a fine bit of ball handling, feeding the ball to Earle and Bunting when they were open. Papiak also earned 13 points of his own in the contest.

The taller Monarchs controlled most of the rebounds in the game, and kept out of foul trouble, keeping the Highlanders on the defensive end of the game for most of the contest.

Although the score was one-sided, Monte Vista's coach Pete Colonelli insisted that his team was not playing up to par. "We were a little tired," he noted. "The pressure playing in a championship game in front of a big crowd slowed us down a little."

Marty Domres To Lead Chargers Saturday Night

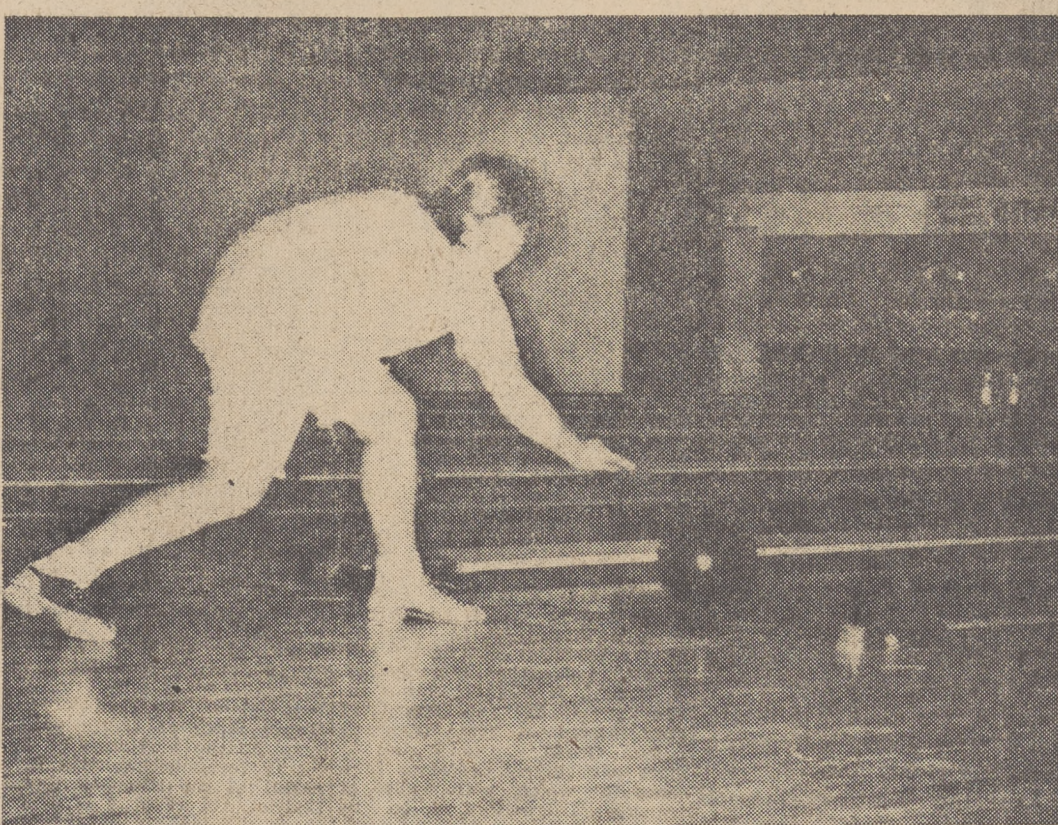

Handsome, bachelor Marty Domres has a date with dame fortune Saturday night.

Seeking to capture the prize of starting quarterback, Domres is slated to play all the way for the San Diego Chargers' against the New York Giants at San Diego Stadium. The courtship begins at 8:30 p.m.

If Marty needs more incentive, he has it. The 6-foot-4, 220-pound sophomore grew up in Syracuse, N.Y., and smashed 15 quarterback records at Columbia University in New York City. The storied Giants were his favorite team and to play for them his brightest ambition. Saturday night, he will attempt to beat them before a live New York television audience.

Game action is broadcast by Stu Nahan and Emil Karas over KDEO and the Charger network.

As the Chargers' No. 1 draft choice last year, Domres started three games. He completed 47 of 112 passes for 631 yards. He passed for two touchdowns and ran for four. He has the size, strong arm and quick mind for quarterback stardom. First, he must

Comedians' Golf/Bash Set For 30 Pro-Am Pairs

Golfdom's Faithful, the pro-am tournament entrants who pay generous entry fees, take time off busy schedules and travel at their own expense, will be rewarded for their efforts at the ninth annual Comedians' Golf Classic to be held on Sept. 18, 19 at nearby Carlton Oaks C.C. in Santee.

Fun is the name of the golf game at the Comedians' Classic, a 36-hole affair involving such names as Dick Martin, Don Adams, Jack Lemmon and the Comedians' Pro of the Year, Dave Hill, in a National Pro-Am Team Championships, a hilarious Mulligan Awards Dinner, a Classic Bash and Auction and special Mulligan holes.

Invitations have been extended to amateurs who were part of a team that finished 10th or better in pro-ams all over the U.S. First 100 to respond will be placed in the draw. Last year, the tournament at the Pomona National Golf Club in Walnut, Calif. drew representatives from 23 pro-ams including such noted ones as the Crosby, the Hope, the Sahara, Andy Williams, Buick, Hawaiian, Danny Thomas, Florida Citrus, National Airlines, Byron Nelson, New Orleans, Los Angeles, Monsanto, Kaiser, Greater Jacksonville, Phoenix, Tucson, Greater Hartford, San Antonio and Atlanta Opens.

"We expect at least 30 pro-ams to be represented this year," executive director Milton Blackstone says.

As to the comedians, the opportunity to contribute to this year's beneficiary, Friends of Handicapped Children, for a therapeutic swimming pool project to be erected on the site of the Revere Development Center on Kearney Mesa should bring out many of the biggest names in Show Biz.

Last year's entry, for instance, included Martin and Adams, who are chairman and honorary chairmen respectively of the 1970 event, the ubiquitous Lemmon, Andy Williams, Jack Carter, Joey

State Spikers To Be Aided By Jerry Culp

San Diego State's track and field fortunes have received a tremendous boost with the announcement that 7-foot high jumper Jerry Culp will enroll in the fall.

Culp will come to State fresh out of Oceanside High School where he established himself as the leading prep high jumper in the nation. Last season he cleared the magic 7-foot height three times enroute to several records.

"I wanted to stay in the area," remarked Culp, "and I knew I could get the type of coaching I wanted at San Diego State."

Aztec head coach Dick Wells was extremely pleased with Culp's decision. "It's a real pleasure to know Jerry will be coming here," noted Wells. "A lot of other schools like UCLA and USC were after him and I'm real happy he chose San Diego State."

A prime candidate for the 1972 Olympic squad, Culp won the 1970 California High School title with a jump of 7-0 1/4. His leap bettered 1968 Olympian Reynaldo Brown's record of 7-foot even. Culp also jumped the same height in the San Diego CIF meet for another record. While at Oceanside, he won the Avocado League crown his last three years.

Bishop, Phil Foster, Jackie Coogan, Don Rickles, Arthur Lake, Max Baer and Dennis James — to name a few.

The Mulligan Awards dinner honors — and that term is ill-advised — a celeb yet to be announced whose exploits in golf the past year reached the point of spectacular disaster. Lemmon was the focal point of ribbing by the usual panel of a dozen top comedians last year. This year's Pro of the Year, Dave Hill, will be honored in the true sense of the word.

This show, to be held in the huge Town and Country Hotel Convention Center in San Diego on Sept. 19, will be open to many others whether they have played in a pro-am or entered the tourney or neither. The tab — $25 — buys a show the like of which golf buffs are rarely privileged to see.

The Classic Bash and Auction on Sept. 18 will feature handsome items from San Diego's Fashion Valley and other donors auctioned off by super salesmen like Martin or Adams.

Mulligan holes, offering unusual challenges to golfers and calculated to break up galleryites, will be scattered throughout the course but will not interfere with the serious pursuit of a good score.

Entrants are invited to play practice rounds on Thursday, Sept. 17 and attend a Pairings Party and Buffet that evening.

Here's the way the actual competition will work. Non-celebs competing will tee off shotgun-style in foursomes Friday morning followed by celebs in the p.m. Since the celebrities will constitute the fifth partner of each amateur team, their team members may gallery on Friday to urge them on to better the morning's two-best-ball scores.

On Saturdays the celebs join the amateur foursomes in a 10:30 a.m. shotgun tee-off.

In addition to the team championship, low-net and low-gross contests will be held on Friday.

More than $7,500 in prizes was distributed last year, contributed for the most part by "hole sponsors." The unique trophies were the talk of the golf world.

The Comedians Golf Classic will be televised this year by Western Telecasters Inc. and offered for syndication throughout the nation.

Rally Puts Game Into Overtime

In the second game of a doubleheader at Grossmont College last Friday night, the County all-stars rallied for thirty points in the last quarter to tie the City team, forcing the contest into overtime and enabling the County to win, 90-87.

The game, which saw coach Gordon Nash in his second appearance of the evening — he also coached the Helix Highlanders, as they lost the first game — was touch and go for the first two quarters, with the County taking a 37-34 edge into the dressing room at half-time.

In the third quarter, the City stars broke it open, outscoring the County 25-10 and taking a 12-point margin into the fourth quarter.

In the first minute of the last stanza, the City continued to mount up points, and led 63-47 with nine minutes to play.

But then the rally began. Ken Carlson, a Mar Vista graduate, and Mark Wilde, a Grossmont grad, came into the game and started it moving. Carlson sank a pair of field goals, and Wilde started the team fast-breaking, and the County stars started hitting again.

With five minutes to play, the City margin was shaved down to four points, and Paul Halupa and Elias Delgadillo each sank a shot to bring the score to 75-75, with 1:23 remaining in regulation play.

As the buzzer sounded, the game was tied, 77-77, and the overtime period started. The City jumped to a four-point lead, but Delgadillo scored three key hoops to put the County back on top. With 45 seconds to go, the County led, 88-85.

Bill Belander and Jim Bristol, former Monte Vista stars, kept the game close during the first two stanzas, as Belander pushed in seven hoops in as many tries during the first 20 minutes, and ended up with 22 points for the evening, to lead all scorers.

Bristol, the quick-handed guard, tossed through 17 tallies, and helped with Belander's scoring with outstanding passes to the inside.

In the contest, the County had four men in double figures, while the City managed three.

SPARKS FLY — Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, tries to avoid collision with Bill Butts, of El Cajon, as sparks fly in Cajon Speedway action. Hitt, who has performed well lately, made it through the traffic, and went on to take second in the main event Saturday night.

'Smilin' Ed Hale Takes Three Main Events At Cajon Speedway

Ed Hale broke out of his second place habit last weekend at Cajon Speedway, and nailed down three main event wins in four tries to set a track record for wins, and three track marks for speed.

On Friday night, "Smilin' Ed," Lemon Grove's versatile leadfoot, climbed into a "mini-stocker" for the first time ever, and set a new record for the three-lap trophy dash, and later on in the evening took the main event for the pint-sized racers.

Also on Friday night, he took first place in a heat race and went on to finish fifth in the modified main, and set a record for the figure eight semi-main event before winning the big one in that division.

On Saturday night, Hale took advantage of Russ Bullen's absence to run away with the 30-lap main in record time. Hale, who started fifteenth in the field of twenty cars, was in the top five after seven laps, and took over the lead a few laps later.

The win for Hale brought him to within 345 points of leader Bullen, and was his fourth of the year.

Loredo To Face Bulls

After scoring two spectacular triumphs, Arturo Ruiz Loredo returns to the bullring by the sea to compete with Raul Contreras "Finito" and Jorge Blando on August 16 at 4 p.m.

Of all the taurine performers who appeared in Tijuana this year, none got more cheers from the crowd or provided more colorful afternoons than Loredo did this season.

Raul Contreras "Finito", a classical torero par excellence, is back for another session in Tijuana for the second time this year. Rated as one of Mexico's most outstanding young talents is Jorge Blando. Son of the now retired world famous torero Andres Blando, he will receive his doctorate as a full-fledged matador de toros in his initial Tijuana presentation.

The three matadors will face six blue ribbon bulls from the Mimihuanapan Ranch.

Bullen, who has seven main event wins to his credit this year, and is tops in the point standings, blew two engines in qualifying competition, and could not participate in the remainder of the program.

Other area drivers who fared well in the week end competition were Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, Pat McIntyre, of Spring Valley, and Gene Klein, of Spring Valley.

Hitt, who is making his move toward the top of the point standings in super stock competition, grabbed second place in the 30-lapper Saturday night to move into fifth place, 225 points behind Spring Valley's Pat McIntyre.

McIntyre, who started back in the pack in the super stock main event and got hung up in traffic, managed to stay clear of spin outs well enough to gain sixth place in the 30-lapper, and picked up enough passing points to keep pace with John Dineen, who took fourth in the affair.

Three Teams Have Perfect 2-0 Records

In La Mesa Men's 16" Slow-Pitch softball, La Mesa Fire Department, Fletcher Hills Little League, and Oasis Cafe came through the opening week of play with perfect 2-0 records.

In division I, La Mesa Fire and Fletcher Hills LL are tied for first place, and Oasis Cafe has hold of the division II lead.

Other teams in division I are Lake Murray Little League, third place, La Mesa Optimists, fourth, La Mesa Little League, fifth, and La Mesa Post Office, last place.

In division II, Faith Chapel rides in second place, with Nanchant Construction third. First Assembly of God, fourth, and La Mesa Police Association, last place.

Gene Klein fared well in figure eight competition to move to within 30 points of George Hathaway in eighth place.

Also last weekend, Joy Swentkofske won the powder puff derby, enabling her to move in on point leaders Diane Porter and Gloria Stahl.

A look to this week end's action shows Russ Bullen working diligently to get his machine ready for Saturday night's encounter with Hale, Hitt, Dineen and McIntyre. Dean Erwin will be out to stop Ed Hale's winning streak in the figure eight competition, while trying to protect a 210 point margin over the Lemon Grove leadfoot.

In mini-stock action, Ron Moore and Jack Daniel will be out to catch Hale, and Smilin' Ed will try to pick up more points in modified sportsmen competition.

Fortenberry Grabs Crown For Batting

'Zorba' To Run At Civic Theater Through Saturday

By Lynn Jones

The Broadway musical "Zorba" starring John Ratt, Barbara Baxley and Chita Rivera in a big and boisterous production, opened Monday night at the Civic Theatre Auditorium stage. The play will run through Saturday, with performances nightly at 8:30 p.m. and matinee Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

"Zorba" is adapted from Nikos Kazantzakis' famous novel "Zorba the Greek." The stage "Zorba" has a book by Joseph Stein who wrote "Fiddler On The Roof," and its score is by the prize-winning team of John Kander and Fred Ebb who composed for "Cabaret." The dances are by "Tony" winner Ronald Field. "Zorba's" costumes are by Patricia Zippodt whose creations won plaudits for her in both "Fiddler" and "Cabaret."

"Zorba" is a fast-moving musical about a lusty middle-aged Greek adventurer named Zorba, played by John Ratt, and a young writer named Nikos, played by Gary Krawford, who seek riches near a Cretan village in an abandoned mine inherited by Nikos. The acting is excellent.

Each actor and actress fit into their parts and make each character an exciting individual. The music and the choreography went to well together that the play seemed even more exciting.

Whenever there is a change of scenery, it blends in so well with what's going on that you hardly notice the change. "Zorba" is really what is said about it. It is a great show.

The Old Globe Theatre has extended the run for "Charley's Aunt." This popular play is performed at the Cassius Carter Center Stage, which is a 245 seat theatre-in-the-round. The theatre is adjacent to the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park.

"Charley's Aunt" is an English comedy which has received popular and critical acclaim. Because of the enthusiastic audiences, producing director Craig Noel decided to continue the play through Labor Day.

David Dukes plays the leading role of a college undergraduate forced to masquerade as an elderly maiden aunt. In Victorian England, two students invite their girl friends to lunch but must provide a chaperone. When the real aunt fails to arrive as expected, Duke is forced to impersonate the missing relative.

Michael Biers and Michael Phillips portray the young men in the predicament, requiring the services of a bogus aunt. Elizabeth Myers and Joyce Schumaker are their visiting girl friends.

Leon Charles and Michael Keenan compete for the attentions of the wealthy aunt, unsuspecting of the masquerade. The surprise arrival of the authentic aunt, played by Jan Manos, complicates the situation.

Marley Days is a young orphan girl searching for her lost love and C. Wayland Capwell is the collegians man servant. Tickets for "Charley's Aunt" are now available through Labor Day, September 6. Performances are held nightly, except Monday, at 8:30 p.m., and matinees are Saturdays and Sundays at 2:00 p.m.

Playing at the Unicorn Cinema, 7456 La Jolla Blvd., La Jolla, tomorrow, are two movies.

The Secret Ceremony (1968), with Mia Farrow, Robert Mitchum and Elizabeth Taylor will be showing at 8:50 p.m. and on Friday at 12:20 p.m. Also showing will be The Wrong Box (1966), with Peter Sellers, John Mills and Ralph Richardson. The show starts at 7:00 p.m. and at 10:45 p.m.

Opening August 15-18 are two more shows. Dracula (1931), with Bela Lugosi. The show starts at 8:15 p.m. and 10:50 p.m. Also showing is Frankenstein (1931), with Boris Karloff, Mae Clark and Colin Clive. The show starts at 7:00 p.m. and 9:35 p.m. It is also showing Saturday at 12:20 p.m.

For more information call 454-7373.

On August 14 there will be evening variety shows at the Organ Pavilion, in Balboa Park, at 7:30 p.m. The shows are free.

Coming to the Museum of Natural History, Balboa Park, on Saturday August 15 at 7 p.m. and on Sunday August 16, at 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m., are three movies.

"To Clear the Air" is a film that points out where air pollution can be corrected and where it can be prevented. Also showing will be, "Go Get the White Porpoise," a film of the first albino porpoise. Also, "Paradise Polluted."

Mexico Ballet Due At Civic Theater Aug. 17-18

Mexico's famous Ballet Folklorico, with a company of 75 dancers, singers and musicians, will perform at the Civic Theatre August 17-18 at 8:30 p.m.

The company, now on its sixth tour of North America in eight years, is under the management of S. Hurok. Its program of dances and songs offers a vivid and varied cross-section of life in Mexico from the pageantry of the Mayans and Aztecs to the swirling folk dances of today.

Since its introduction to the United States by Hurok in 1962, the Ballet Folklorico, founded in 1952 by Amalia Hernandez, has been a hit wherever it has appeared, including many European countries, Australia, New Zealand and the Soviet Union. In January, 1965, it was invited by

Spring Valley Woman Is Victim Of Burglary

Rosemary Smalley, of 311 Park Brook Dr., Spring Valley, was the victim of an $800 burglary last week.

Mrs. Smalley, who was visiting in Los Angeles, left her teenage daughter home to watch the house.

The daughter invited friends over for a party while the mother was away, and apparently some of the youngsters made off with Mrs. Smalley's jewelry.

Sky Grove Drops Two; Must Wait 'Til Next Year

The Sky Grove Pony League all star baseball team traveled north last week and met with disaster, dropping two straight ball games, and losing a chance to go all the way in post season tournaments.

A little nervous in the first game of the tourney, the Sky Groves booted away the ball game, committing six errors, as Riverside came up with a 6-4 win.

Mark Gwynn belted a solo homer for the Groves, but it wasn't enough.

In the second contest, the area stars made a good show of it, but lost a tough one in extra innings. Phil Williamson tossed a three-hitter for seven innings, but left the game with the score tied at three all. Tucson scored a run to win it in the eighth, capitalizing on a walk, fielder's choice, passed ball, and a balk.

The loss to Tucson put the skids on the Sky Grove post season play that saw the locals play eleven ball games, winning eight.

In the first post-season game, Jesse Jenner tossed a one-hitter to lift the Groves to a 1-0 win over Spring Valley.

Mark Gwynn pitched the next one, throwing a one-hitter at La Mesa, giving Sky Grove a 3-1 win.

In the next game, Sky Grove was delayed momentarily from becoming the tourney champs as Spring Valley belted three home runs to take a 4-2 nod. Sky Grove came back the next night to bomb Spring Valley, 3-1, with the help of Gwynn's four hit.

Then it was on to El Cajon for the divisional playoffs, which Sky Grove won by beating Black Mountain twice, 7-0, on a three hitter by Gwynn, and 7-6, on a two run homer by Tom Sperla in the bottom of the final inning.

The Groves then traveled to Imperial Beach to vie for the area crown, which they won by knocking off Clairemont, Escondido, and Imperial.

Fancy Field Slated Saturday at Del Mar

DEL MAR — Probably the fanciest field of three-year-olds in Del Mar history will see action Saturday at the turf-surf course in the 30th running of the $20,000-added La Jolla Mile, one of the major preliminary events leading up to the rich Del Mar Derby on August 29.

Heading the lineup of eighteen sophomores are a couple of late-developing stars — Mile and Taubor's D'Artagnan and Flying M. Stable's Swift Savage — along with Dr. Ernest Gaillard Jr.'s Rullah Fols, victor in the recent Oceandale Handicap here.

The contention runs deep with such established stakes quality performers as Colorado King Jr., Mickey McGuire, Willowick, Cum Shane, Fleet Sands, Bhav Swaps, Colorado Kid, Montana Winds, Smugglin' George, Sugar Loaf, Terra Berry, Windy Tarquin and War Heim.

D'Artagnan, a son of Verlex, came into prominence earlier this summer with a smashing triumph in the $50,000 Cinema Handicap at Hollywood Park. He has been freshened up since his Inglenwood campaign by trainer Buster Millerick and is expected to be in top shape Saturday.

Smog Device Stations To Be Controlled

California motorists who have their anti-smog devices inspected and adjusted at official stations will have a better idea what they are paying for after Saturday.

That is the date revisions in regulations controlling the motor vehicle pollution control device official stations, recently adopted by the California Highway Patrol, become effective. The CHP licenses and regulates both the stations and the installers they employ.

The regulations not only specify precisely what the installer must do when inspecting motor vehicle pollution control devices prior to issuing certificates of compliance, but they require that these procedures be posted for the customer's information.

Science Cruiser Program Slated For August 18

Tours of research areas and an outdoor classroom at Naval Electronics Laboratory Center are first events for 105 high school science students participating in the 1970 West Coast Navy Science Cruiser Program.

The teen-agers will be at NELC for four hours beginning at 8 a.m. Tuesday, August 18. Each has been selected because of a science fair project which is of some possible benefit to the Navy in research work.

Ronald J. Nachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nachman of San Diego, is the Science Cruiser winner from the 1970 Greater San Diego Science Fair. Ronald is a student at Patrick Henry High School.

At NELC the 90 boys and 15 girls will visit the holography laboratory, microelectronics laboratory, vision studies unit and applied systems development and evaluation laboratory. At 11 a.m., the Center will offer informal discussion sessions in psychology, microbiology, medical science, physics and Navy research and development. Staff members of NELC will be leaders and the sessions will be held on the lawn in front of the Center's main administration building.

Van's Bill Designed To Stem Narco Flow

WASHINGTON — Legislation to limit both the production and export of dangerous drugs has been introduced by Reps. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, and John V. Tunney, D-Riverside.

The two Congressmen, whose districts extend the length of California's border with Mexico, timed their bill to coincide with the preparation of major drug abuse control legislation by the House Commerce Committee. Van Deerlin, a member of the committee, has been urging that the same stringent controls proposed for "hard" narcotics also be applied to prescription drugs such as amphetamines and barbiturates.

The committee measure would in fact prohibit the export of hard narcotics unless the U. S. Justice Department could be convinced that the shipments were for bona fide medical or scientific purposes, and would not be smuggled back into this country.

No shipment could be made without a permit from the Justice Department. But in the case of stimulant and depressant drugs, the committee legislation asks only that Justice be notified of such shipments.

Likewise, the committee bill would direct the attorney general to fix production quotas for the hard narcotics — but not for dangerous pills.

"While narcotics may be more harmful, the abuse through pills is far more widespread, even among the young," Van Deerlin. "It seems only logical to crack down on illicit traffic in these substances as well."

Tunney and Van Deerlin noted that arrests for dangerous drug violations increased last year in California by 59 percent among juveniles and by 86 percent among adults.

Van Deerlin has told his committee that enough amphetamines and barbiturates are produced each year to provide every man, woman and child in this country with an annual supply of about 90 of the pills. He contends that drug abuse could be sharply curbed by limiting production to amounts of proven medical need.

SLOBB Gives Thirty Awards For Clean-Up

The second and final awards in the Slobb Program were made yesterday at Wegeforth Bowl in the San Diego Zoo.

The summer-long program was tri-sponsored by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, San Diego City & County War Against Litter Committee, and Clean Water Inc.

The final activity of the summer long Slobb Program will take place August 22 at "G" and Harbor st. at the Navy Fleet Landing. At this event the U. S. Navy will show methods used to keep San Diego Bay clean.

The San Diego Diving Clubs and Navy divers will participate in underwater clean-up of the area, and the San Diego Port District will show what methods they use to help make San Diego Bay one of the cleanest in the nation.

More than 13,000 species of butterflies have been identified.

'Wingo' Center Newest Indoor Shooting Palace

A revolutionary new game that combines trap-shooting, snowball-pitching, and bowling-type scoring is the basis of a new recreation called "Wingo".

The million-dollar indoors pilot Wingo center was opened this week at 8950 Clairemont Mesa — just east of Highway 395 near Astronautics by Winchester group of Olin Corp.

The game is played by firing a special calibre shotgun at free-flying hollow ice-ball targets. The balls are launched toward the gunman. The shooter's opponent selects the speed, timing and trajectory of each target . . . all of which is controlled electronically. Few missiles reach the shooter.

The specially-designed facility permits solo play as well as team competition. Each game involving two opponents lasts about a half hour and costs $1 a person. Team play lasts longer.

The entire operation is automatic. A flash-freeze refrigeration system makes ice-balls — a set of six every two minutes. These are then punctured and the water drained out — leaving only a shell. The shell is then propelled toward the shooter from one of five launches in the wall. Opponent controls the speed, trajectory and starting point of each ice-ball. Shells are 22 cal. Specials with bird-shot loading. A timing device decides how quickly the missile has been hit and scores are posted for each shot automatically via electronic console and a television device.

Wingo operational hours are from 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 1 p.m. to 1 a.m. on weekends. Food and alcoholic beverages are served.

Tonight's Meeting To Help Hunters Fill Their Bags This Year

Hunters who expect to take the field in quest of the first flying doves when the season opens September 1 undoubtedly will find filling their bags easier after listening to the advice of the experts who will serve as a panel at the San Diego County Fish and Game Association's monthly meeting tonight in the Balboa Park War Memorial Building, at 7:30 p.m.

Dayton Frost, who will serve as the entertainment program moderator for the Association, has assembled foremost experts in this field. They will include: Capt. John Roumasset, Dept. of Fish and Game Land Patrol; Ken Ellison, Imperial County Fish and Game Commissioner; Lenie Sims, Dept. of Fish and Game Warden assigned to Imperial County.

They will inform the attending sportsmen of conditions in San Diego and Imperial Counties, pointing out best concentrations of birds and reminding the hunters of laws and ordinances which will prevail. In addition, they will answer questions directed to them by the sportsmen on hand.

Summer Colds—They Can Be Real Problems

More people catch cold in the winter, but a summer cold can be a real problem, too. Time to review some facts, folk remedies and superstitions of this nagging illness.

A cold is the name given to virus infections of the nose and throat. They are highly contagious and have similar symptoms. A scratchy throat to start, then stuffy nose, vague discomfort, and usually sneezing. Within 48 hours, the deluge — teary eyes, runny nose, difficult breathing, smell and taste dulled. A cold peaks for several days and can last from one to two weeks.

There is no cure for the common cold. Exposure to frigid weather or cold baths won't build resistance, nor will vitamins, unless you have an unbalanced diet. Wearing garlic in a sock around your throat or wrapping it in flannel will only make you puny, or a bit warmer. Hot milk and a laxative don't really help a cold.

You can relieve the symptoms. Aspirin for headache and general aches, a vaporizer to ease congestion, hard candy to soothe the throat, cough syrup, nasal spray to unclog breathing. Liquids — fruit juice or water — make you feel better, though on one is sure why.

Colds in themselves aren't dangerous — but can lead to more serious respiratory trouble. If other symptoms develop — lasting fever, severe headache, chest pains, hard coughing spells, earache, or rusty-looking sputum — call a doctor. For more information, contact your Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties.
